One of the strong things about the republican party is the fact that it places so many of its strong men in the front in national affairs. And among these strong men Indiana is furnishing her full share.

In his last published interview, about a month ago, the late Mr. Dingley made four predictions: (1) Within two years our present revenues will meet expenses; (2) our dependencies will be self-supporting; (3) expansion will not permanently increase our expenses; (4) an isthmian canal will b open for commerce within ten vears. Mr. Dingley's hopeful American spirit was one of his strong points.

An effort is being made, so it is reported, to transfer the Philippines to England and receive in exchange all of England's colonies in the West Indies and Bahamas, including the abrogation of certain agreements with England concerning the states of Central America. The questions of the fisheries and of our relations with Canada are also said to form a part of the secret negotiations that are being carried on between the two countries through their

DIED.

The funeral of George H. Barnes was held Sunday at 11:30 o'clock at the Marion Baptist church southeast of Seymour in Jennings county, the services being conducted by Rev. D. M. Lett. A arge concourse of relatives and friends were in attendance. Mr. Barnes was born in Trimble county, Kentucky, Aug. 17, 1819. He came to Indiana at an early day; was married to Sarah Fear Oct. 3, 1841, to whom eight children were born, seven of whom survive. His wife died about three and a half years ago. He was a consistent member of the Marion Baptist church and gave the strongest evidence of his Christian life, Almost his last words were, "I am going home." He had been blind for some time prior to his death.

Andrew Reinbold died at his home t Vallonia Sunday, aged about eightyfour years. The funeral will be held Tuesday at 10 o'clock. The deceased was formerly a resident of Seymour and has many acquaintances here. He was the father of Mrs. Sullivan, living on North Ewing street. He was one of the oldest men in the county.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafuess is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an in flamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

FARMER'S INSTITUTE.

First Day's Session Well Attended and Discussions Interesting and

The Jackson County Farmers' Institute met this forenoon at Armory Hall at 10 o'clock. Called to order by James Montgomery, president. Prayer was in. delinquent tax notices and transacting effered by D. M. Lett, after which the minutes of the last institute were read by the secretary, E. J. Miller. The instructors present are Prof. Bitting, of Purdue, James Riley, of Thorntown, and H. L. Nowlin, who discuss a number of important subjects today and tomorrow. The subject-"How a Boy can buy a farm and pay for it by his own exerions"-was postponed by Mr. Riley for the time being.

"How to keep the boys on the farm," was discussed by W. M. Isaacs.

Prof. Bitting discussed "Hygiene, or followed by W. D. Bohall who discussed the subject: "Clean farming. Does it pay?"

This afternoon the attendance is unusually large, the seating capacity of the hall being overtaxed. After prayer by Elder Thos. Jones, Warren Burge spoke on "What shall we do on the old farm." "Contagious Diseases and how to meet them." by Prof. Bitting, and "Big wheat crops and how to grow them," by Mr. Riley were both interesting discussions The paper by Miss Josie Robertson, How Many Do You Suppose It Takes 'Education of girls for life on the farm' was carefully prepared and well read. The institute voted to have it published it require?" asked the man in the chair, n the county papers.

Other subjects were presented after we had gone to press.

At the session tonight a paper will be read by Mrs. R. R. Short and Prof. Bitting will deliver a lecture on the 'Sanitary Condition of Daries."

The institute will not close until tomorrow evening.

GREATEST OF COLONIZERS Much of the Earth Owes Its Settlement to

the Finding of Gold. It has been well said that gold is the greatest of colonizers, and this has prov d especially true in the last half of the present century. To what lone regions the footsteps of man were attracted in the earliest times by the discovery of gold we may not know, but within the memory of living men great regions of the earth's surface have owed their setand occupation solely to the anding by search or accident of a few shining particles in the earth. California was a remote and outlying province of Mexico, inhabited by Indians, gathered in missions or scattered abroad, and cattle barons and their dependents, visited by a few ships each year in search of a freight of hides, when the picking up of a few grains of gold in the banks of a mill race called the gold seekers from the four quarters of the earth and transformed a wilder-ess into a populous empire. Australia was a corner of the earth selected on account of its remoteness from their former home as a place of banishment for British criminals when the gleam of gold illuminated it and filled the distant harbors with sails and their shores with cities.

South Africa might have remained forever a grassy waste, the home of savages contending with the Boers and the British for the possession of illimitable pastures, had not gold called the miner and those who follow him to build Johannesburg.—Kansas City Times.

It is the sea which ennobles everything. Above this intense blue the sky is transparently, superbly pale, and the stars are hurrying to light their lamps. There is not a living soul, nor a plant, nor any sign of the hand of man. Bank Impertinence.

The Philadelphia Record tells of an old Pennsylvania farmer who recently came into possession of a check for $200. It caused him a great deal of anxiety, and for a long time he could not muster up the courage to have it cashed. Finally, while on a trip to town, he summoned up nerve enough and, strolling into the bank, presented the check. The teller glanced at it hastily, and then, after the fashion of his kind, brusquely asked, "What denomination?

"Lutheran, gol durn it! But what's thet got tew do with it?" as brusquely replied the old farmer, to the great astonishment of the bank official. It required several minutes' explanation before the teller could get the old man to understand his question, and then the latter took his money and departed, with sundry growls derogatory to banks in general.

A CHINESE WEDDING.

Everything Connected With the Ceremonies Is Decked In Red.

The Chinese place a significance upon every color, and in connection with a wedding red obtains a deep rooted, mysterious importance, the next bridal color in value being gold. At a betrothal the bridegroom elect sends his sweetheart a pair of bracelets fastened together with a piece of red rik cord. The bride and bridegroom d two wine cups at the wedding, which are also connected by a red cord. In northern China the attendants wear tall felt hats, and each hat has a red feather stuck upright in it. The attendants also carry the wedding presents. A sedan chair bears the bride herself. In south China a sedan most wonderfully gilded is used by the wealthy classes, and it is decorated with what appears at first sight to be brilliant in id stones, but which are in reality the glossy feathers of the kingfisher. A handsome cloth of glowing red with trimmed border is also thrown over the

In the case of the poorer classes red is also the prevailing bridal color, and a chair of ordinary carved wood, painted a bright red, is used. Above the door of the chair a kind of charm is placarded or hung upon a red cloth. The chair itself is sent by the bridegroom, accompanied by what corresponds to our best man. This functionary brings with him a letter written in yellow or gold upon red paper, praying the lady to enter and take her place.

Men dressed all in red and carrying red parcels containing the presents fall into the procession. Other bearers carry boards and banners, inscribed in golden letters upon a red ground. These banners tell the pedigree of both parties. Behind the bearers come the other at tendants, with long poles, on which are hung very handsome 1 terns. The bride's veil is of bright crimson hue and her dress regal gold and scarlet .-Wide World.

A MILD MANNERED PIRATE

An Ex-Clerk Who Joined the Flerce Sea

Rovers of the Spanish Main. "The Buccaneers of Our Coast" is the title of a series of narrative sketches that Frank R. Stockton is writing for St. Nicholas. In speaking of John Esquemeling, who joined the buccaneers and became their historian, Mr. Stockton says:

It must have been a strange thing for a man accustomed to pens and ink, to about how many strokes of the razor it yardsticks and scales, to offer to enroll himself in a company of bloody, big bearded pirates, but a man must eat, and buccaneering was the only profession open to our ex-clerk. For some reason or other, certainly not on account of his bravery and daring, Esquemeling was very well received by the pirates of Tortuga. Perhaps they liked him because he was a mild mannered man and so different from themselves. As for Esquemeling himself, he soon of his pirate companions. He looked upon the buccaneers who had distinguished themselves as great heroes, and the trouble to count. In my case I never it must have been extremely gratifying to those savage fellows to tell Esqu meling all the wonderful things they had done. Esquemeling might have earned a salary as a listener. It was not long before his intense ad miration of the buccaneers and their performances began to produce in him the feeling that these great exploits should not be lost to the world, and so he set about writing their lives and adventures.

He remained with the pirates for several years and during that time worked very industriously getting together material for his history. When he returned to his own country in 1672, he there completed a book which he called "The Buccaneers of America; or, The True Account of the Most Remarkable Assaults Committed of Late Years Upon the Coasts of the West Indies by the Buccaneers, etc. By John Esquemeling, One of the Buccaneers, Who Was Present at Those Tragedies."

From this title it is probable that in the capacity of reporter our literary pirate accompanied his comrades on their various voyages and assaults, and although he states he was present at many of "those tragedies" he makes no reference to any deeds of valor or cruelty performed by himself, which shows him to have been a wonderfully conscientious historian. There are persons, however, who doubt his impartiality, because, as he liked the French, he always gave the pirates of that nationality the credit for most of the bravery displayed on their expeditions, and all of the magnanimity and courtesy, if there happened to be any, while the surliness, brutality and extraordinary wickedness were all ascribed to the English.

Pleasant and Unique Reception. Saturday afternoon Miss Nina Ewing entertained from 2 to 5 o'clock in honor of Miss Breen, of Loogootee, and Miss Alcorn, of Kentucky. The parlors hallway and dining room were prettily decorated, the colors cheme in the decorations being red. The chandeliers were festooned with smilax and California peppers presenting a very attractive appearance. Miss Ewing was assisted in the front parlor by Miss Agnes Andrews and Mrs. A. J. Pellens in the second parlor by Mrs. Emma Thompson, Mrs. T A. Gabraith and Mrs. Allen Swope and in the dining room by Mrs. O. H. Montgomery and Mrs. J. M. Shields. During the afternoon a large number of ladies called. The event was indeed a very pleasant, one in every way. In the evening Miss Ewing entertained quite a number of her lady and gentlemen friends in a most unique for them a little surprise that did her-James Riley, one of the lecturers at self much credit and highly pleased all her friends present. The surprise was the presentation of Howell's farce comedy, "The Mouse Trap," a very interesting and laughable little play. Those taking part in the play were Misses Mary Breen, Cordelia Andrews. Millicent Miles, Maggie Phelan and Lucy Boake, Mrs. W. E. Gerrish and and DeGraff Billings. All played their parts well. The fact of the presentation of the play had been kept a secret by all those who took part making it appreciated all the more. It was a decided success as all present attest and an innovation in Seymour society.

A Hotel's Busy Day. Yesterday afternoon a swell rich called at one of Seymour's hotels fo dressed in the top of style including a silk plug hat. At night the same hotel was the scene of a number of courtship scenes. One young lady entertained a farmer friend in the dining room. In the ball another looked after the entertainment of a well known bachelor attorney of this city, who has found a more convenient arrangement than a Sunday afternoon drive of seven or eight miles east. The parlor was occupied by a newly promoted engineer and his best girl.

E. W. Shepard.

Edward Wesley Shepard was born at Oberlin, Ohio, May 6, 1835. In his ounger days he was in business at Toledo, Ohio, and in 1881, he came to Seymour, where he has since resided being engaged in the sale of monuments or H. W. Godfrey and later for C. H. pray & Co. He was twice married. His first wife was Maria Jane Fisher, whom he married at Wellington, Ohio. To them two children were born, both of whom are living, Mrs. Hattie Lucas of Toledo, Ohio, and Fred G. Shepard, of Detroit, Mich., wno is connected with the Wabash railroad service between Detroit and Chicago. His second marriage was to Mrs. Margaret Mann, of New Albany, Jan. 23, 1881. No children were born to them. Mr. Shepard's llness was of brief duration. He was taken sick at Mitchell a week ago last Saturday night with the grip He came to Ewing Sunday morning on the flyer. He expected to go at once to the home of his brother-in-law Charles W. Murphy, at Honeytown, but he was unable to make the trip and Mr. Murphy came after him and stayed at the hotel with him that night, and on Monday took him home with him. He grew steadily worse, the attack developing into severe pneumonia, from which he died Thursday at 1 p. m., aged 63 years, 8 months and 6 days.

The event of the literary year will be undoubtedly, the great novel upon which Count Tolstoy has been laboring in order that he may devote the proceeds to the transportation to Canada of three thousand Russian Quakers. It is generally believed by his friends that this work will probably mark the conclusion of count Tolstoy's literary career. Not merely on this account, but because fof the subject treated, it wil attract the widest attention, the world over. It is a profound study of the life of man and woman, and treats of the three phases of love-that of the youth, that of the young man, and that of the man in mature age. The Cosmopolitan Magazine announces that it has secured the sole right of publication.

Decatur, Ills., Jan. 16.-Mob violence was luckily averted in Decatur Saturday by the action of the jury in the Louis A. Clevenger murder case, for, had a verdict of acquittal been returned, or had there been a disagreement, Clevenger would surely have been lynched. It developed that there was a large body of determined men in the city from the vieinity of Sheepsford, ready to act speedily. The jury submitted a verdict of guilty and fixed the punishment at 30 years in the penitentiary. Clevenger smiled when the verdict was read. He is 36 years of age, and in July last through jealousy shot and killed Ba Telford, who had clandestinely met Ledosha Myers in the timber. There will be no application for a new trial. Clevenger has a divorced wife and three children in Kansas.

BRECKINRIDGE'S

Friends Will Protest to the War De partment Against Recent Orders. Lexington, Ky., Jan. 16.-A letter has been written by an ex-member of the Fifth Wisconsin volunteer infantry, who resides in this city, in which he calls on all the volunteers who were encamped at Chickamanga to protest against the action of the war department in its recent orders to General Joseph C. Breck inridge, inspector general of the United States army. The letter says that as soon as General Breckinridge assumed command at Chickamauga the conditions existing there improved to a marked degree, and urges the volunteers to do what they can for him by concerted action and influence upon the congressmen of their respective districts. Thousands of copies will be printed and

ALLOWING OF FEES

In Certain Cases Revolutionized by Kentucky Appellate Court.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 16.—The court of appeals Saturday decided that circuit judges must be governed strictly by the statute in allowing fees to commissioners for making sales of property, collecting the money and paying it over to the proper parties. The case came up from Louisville, and will almost revolutionize the fees allowed to commissioners in Jefferson, Kenton, Campbell, Fayette and several other counties, as in the case decided the commissioner, who sold property under order of court for $26. 000, was allowed by the circuit judge $272 for his services, while the court of appeals holds he should be paid $25 only under the statute.

Countess Rosemont De Rouge-Aix Working as a Governess in Vienna. New York, Jan. 16.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "Countess Rosemont De Rouge-Aix, daughter of Mr. Steward, a Boston millionaire, has been living in this city incognito as a governess in a gentleman's house. It appears that within a few minutes after her wedding she learned by chance that the count had only married her because her father had promised to pay his debts, amounting to £300,000 ($1,400,000). Overcome by this disclosure, she ran away as a protest against being sold in this way, and she intends to earn her living here until she can divorce her mercenary husband."

choice of the caucus of Indiana repub-

Owe of the strong things about the republican party is the fact that it places so many of its strong men in the front in national affairs. And among these strong men Indiana is furnishing her full share.

In his last published interview, about a month ago, the late Mr. Dingley made four predictions: (1) Within two years our present revenues will meet expenses; (2) our dependencies will be self-supporting; (3)expansion will not permanently increase our expenses; (4) an isthmian canal will be open for commerce within ten years. Mr. Dingley's hopeful American spirit was one of his strong points.

An effort is being made, so it is reported, to transfer the Philippines to England and receive in exchange all of England's colonies in the West Indies and Bahamas, including the abrogation of certain agreements with England concerning the states of Central America. The questions of the fisheries and of our relations with Canada are also said to form a part of the secret negotiations that are being carried on between the two countries through their representatives.

SENATOR GRAY has made a strong speech in favor of the Philippine policy the peace commissioners and understands theroughly what he is talking about. He knows the difficulties with which the problem has been surrounded. No other course was possible islands, and no one who has been criticising the president and preaching We shall ever hold them in kindert anti-expansion has been able to suggest any other course of action that would have been possible without bringing dishonor upon our nation.

Stolen Goods Still Unclaimed.

Policeman Hopewell returned Saturday evening from Leesville where he went to inspect some stolen goods found out in the woods near there. In of pants, an overcoat, two or three suits of clothes, several pairs of shoes and other articles. From the cost mark it could be told that the goods were stolen from a retail store, but so far there seems to be no clue as to where they came from. A railroad detective who was there had no information then by which the ownership of the goods could be ascertained. Hopewell brought a pair of the pants back with him and showed them to clothing merchants here, but none of them could give him any information.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or mperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafuess is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an in flamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Prof. Bitting discussed "Hygiene, or Care of Farm Animals," and was

This afternoon the attendance is unusually large, the seating capacity of the on "What shall we do on the old farm." Almost his last words were, "I am going "Contagious Diseases and how to meet them." by Prof. Bitting, and "Big wheat crops and how to grow them," by Mr. Riley were both interesting discussions The paper by Miss Josie Robertson, 'Education of girls for life on the farm' was carefully prepared and well read. The institute voted to have it published in the county papers.

> Other subjects were presented after we had gone to press.

At the session tonight a paper will be read by Mrs. R. R. Short and Prof. Bitting will deliver a lecture on the 'Sanitary Condition of Daries.'

The institute will not close until tomorrow evening.

GREATEST OF COLONIZERS Much of the Earth Owes Its Settlement to

the Finding of Gold. It has been well said that gold is the greatest of colonizers, and this has proved especially true in the last half of the present century. To what lone regions the footsteps of man were attracted in the earliest times by the discovery of gold we may not know, but within the memory of living men great regions of the earth's surface have owed their settlement and occupation solely to the anding by search or accident of a few I call it a stroke every time the raze ining particles in the earth. California was a remote and outlying province of Mexico, inhabited by Indians, gathered in missions or scattered abroad, and cattle barons and their dependents, visited by a few ships each year in search of a freight of hides. when the picking up of a few grains of gold in the banks of a mill race called the gold seekers from the four quarters ness into a populous empire. Australia was a corner of the earth selected on account of its remotenes from their former home as a place of banishment for British criminals when the gleam of gold illuminated it and filled the distant harbors with sails and their shores with cities.

South Africa might have remained forever a grassy waste, the home of savages contending with the Boers and the British for the possession of illimitable pastures, had not gold called the miner and those who follow him to build Johannesburg.—Kansas City Times.

It is the sea which ennobles everything. Between the line and the surf there was but the ancient foreshore, covered with prickly tamarisks and mauve colored heath, with yellow sand conspicuous here and there. At the limit of the foreshore the rugged border line cut clear into a deep and somber blue. It is she—blue as any grape on of General William Henry Harrison good half of the range of sight; the white sail of a fishing smack floats alone, like a hollow shell; the eternal monotone of ocean is borne upon the ear. Draw near and see the leaping silver foam.

Above this intense blue the sky is transparently, superbly pale, and the stars are hurrying to light their lamps. There is not a living soul, nor a plant, nor any sign of the hand of man. There might be nereids and fauns dancing on the strand, as in the days when the world was young .- H. A. Taine in "Journeys Through France."

A MILD MANNERED PIRATE

An Ex-Clerk Who Joined the Flerce Sea Rovers of the Spanish Main.

"The Buccaneers of Our Coast" is the title of a series of narrative sketches that Frank R. Stockton is writing for St. Nicholas. In speaking of John Esquemeling, who joined the buccaneers and became their historian, Mr. Stock-

It must have been a strange thing for a man accustomed to pens and ink, to himself in a company of bloody, big bearded pirates, but a man must eat, and buccaneering was the only profession open to our ex-clerk. For some reason or other, certainly not on account of his bravery and daring, Esquemeling was very well received by the pirates of Tortuga. Perhaps they liked him because he was a mild mannered man and so different from themselves.

As for Esquemeling himself, he soon came to entertain the highest opinions of his pirate companions. He looked upon the buccaneers who had distinguished themselves as great heroes, and it must have been extremely gratifying knew the number to fall below 500, to those savage fellows to tell Esquemeling all the wonderful things they earned a salary as a listener. It was not long before his intense ad miration of the buccaneers and their performances began to produce in him the feeling that these great exploits should not be lost to the world, and so he set about writing their lives and adventures. He remained with the pirates for several years and during that time worked very industriously getting together material for his history. When he returned to his own country in 1672, he there completed a book which he called "The Buccaneers of America; or, The True Account of the Most Remarkable Assummoned up nerve enough and, stroll- saults Committed of Late Years Upon the Coasts of the West Indies by the The teller glanced at it hastily, and Buccaneers, etc. By John Esquemeling, One of the Buccaneers, Who Was Present at Those Tragedies."

From this title it is probable that in the capacity of reporter our literary pivarious voyages and assaults, and although he states he was present at many of "those tragedies" he makes no reference to any deeds of valor or cruelty performed by himself, which shows him to have been a wonderfully conscientious historian. There are persons, however, who doubt his impartiality, because, as he liked the French, he always gave the pirates of that nationality the credit for most of the bravery displayed on their expeditions, and all of the magnanimity and courtesy, if there happened to be any, while the surliness, brutality and extraordinary wickedness were all ascribed to the English.

A Pleasant and Unique Reception Saturday afternoon Miss Nina Ewing entertained from 2 to 5 o'clock in honor of Miss Breen, of Loogootee, and Miss Alcorn, of Kentucky. The parlors hallway and dining room were prettily decorated, the colors cheme in the decorations being red. The chandeliers were festooned with smilax and California peppers presenting a very attractive appearance. Miss Ewing was assisted in the front parlor by Miss Agnes Andrews and Mrs. A. J. Pellens n the second parlor by Mrs. Emms Thompson, Mrs. T A. Gabraith and Mrs. Allen Swope and in the dining room by Mrs. O. H. Montgomery and Mrs. J. M. Shields. During the afternoon a large number of ladies called The event was indeed a very pleasant, one in every wav.

In the evening Miss Ewing entertained quite a number of her lady Representative Huff, of Daviess coun and gentlemen friends in a most unique for them a little surprise that did her-James Riley, one of the lecturers at self much credit and highly pleased all her friends present. The surprise was he presentation of Howell's farce comedy, "The Mouse Trap," a very interesting and laughable little play Those taking part in the play were Misses Mary Breen, Cordelia Andrews Millicent Miles, Maggie Phelan and Lucy Boake, Mrs. W. E. Gerrish and and DeGraff Billings. All played their parts well. The fact of the presentation of the play had been kept a secret by all those who took part making it appreciated all the more. It was a decided success as all present attest and an innovation in Seymour society.

A Hotel's Busy Day

Yesterday afternoon a swell rig called at one of Seymour's hotels for the porter who promptly appeared dressed in the top of style including a silk plug hat. At night the same hotel was the scene of a number of courtship scenes. One young lady entertained a farmer friend in the dining room. In the ball another looked after the entertainment of a well known bachelor attorney of this city, who has found a more convenient arrangement than a Sunday afternoon drive of seven or eight miles east. The parlor wa occupied by a newly promoted engineer and his best girl.

Funeral of E. W. Shepard.

The funeral of the late E. W. Shepard was conducted Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist church by Rev. J. W. Clevenger and was largely attended. Rev. Clevenger spoke from the text: Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man. For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good or whether it be evil."

LaGrippe Successfully Treated. "I have just recovered from the sec ond attack of la grippe this year," says Mr. Jas. A. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexia, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days against ten days for the former attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.'" A Woman Writer's Bold Suggestion to Help Weary Wives.

There are few things that exhaust a woman more than a day's shopping. The average man looks upon a woman's 'purchasing day' as one of pleasure, but when he accompanies her on one of these shopping expeditions he goes home, after his patience has been all ex- They Are Confined In Different Inhausted, with a different belief. Morrow's Kid-ne-oids cure every one of these and in so doing tones up the general system making every person feeling like new. We publish a small booklet called The Vital Question which goes into detail on kidney diseases which is a valuable little volume and is mailed free of charge to any one sending full 1 ame and address plainly written, with stamp for remailing. It fully explains kidney disease from its beginning to its ending without leading the reader through large medical phrases and terms which are not readily understood.

The human system is like a clock which keeps all kinds of time or none ist all, when it gets out of repair or needs cleaning. The kidneys get just this way; they need clea ing from the fact that they are filters of the system for all liquids that pass through it. Your body needs bathing, you hair needs cutting, your nails need riming, your eath need filling, yo reyes need glasses and your kidneys need to be kept in a healthy condition if you wish to be HEALTHY. This is a good common sense this disease and we warrant it, or your money back.

Morrow's Kid-ne-oids are small Yellow Tablets (not pills) which makes them easy to take, agreeable to act and just what the system needs to tone it up and expel dis ease. Alpha Cox, tedruggist, has a fresh stock of them on hand. They cost but fifty Morrow & Co., Chemists, Springfield, Ohio.
